Personnell of Pennsylvania Conference

A brief passing notice of some of the dignities of our last Conference at Altoona, might be of interest to readers of the EVANGELIST.

Albert Trent, who has so ably presided over our Sunday School convention, is one of the best up-to-date Sunday School workers we have met. No ruts has he fallen into and knows just what a successful Sunday School is and what is more knows how to have it. He is wide awake, a model executive and a power in the Sunday School, and hence a blessing to the Johnstown church, the pastor's right hand man. May his kind be increased.

R. E. Darling, the Moderator of the Brethren Conference is wide-awake young man, a quiet, firm, presiding officer. He is full of zeal for the cause a strong round and full tone in speaking, an excellent pastor, successful evangelist and we bespeak for him great success in the California field. Pa. sorely feels her loss. In manner, he is most pleasing and would not injure or do a wrong to any one.

E. E. Haskins is that whole bundle of enthusiasm, push drive ahead and determined spirit that awakens life in any conference. He is full of the Spirit, a lover of every department of the church work and loyal to all her interests. Very successful evangelist, a noble pastor and one who can sympathize with any one to that degree as to put himself in their place. He was our past Moderator, now vice moderator.

We all know J. H. Knepper, our worthy zealous treasurer of our conference. He has a peculiar knack of extracting the last dollar from you, if you had not paid your delegate dues. Then he also made that friend of Brother Haskins pay some over a hundred dollars state mission money by raising that amount the last session of our conference. Brother Spanogle calls "Johnny" our walking encyclopedia having an answer for every technicality that might arise in Conference. He is our nearest neighbor and we often enjoy his hospitality in his home. He is a good pastor and enjoys the confidence of the church. The Secretary of this Conference—we'll he just took items and watched things in general and let the rest have their say.

J. B. Wampler is the veteran of many battles, the oldest perhaps in the active ministry of the church in the state. He has the Bible at his command, being well versed in it. He puts on the brakes in our conference when enthusiasm and zeal runs too high. He is an excellent counsellor, full of wisdom and the Spirit of God and has done much for the Brethren cause at large. He is considered one of the ablest writers in the church and takes especial interest in home missions as well as foreign. May many years be allotted unto him in the Master's vineyard.

W. L. Spanogle is a faithful promoter of the Brethren church. He was busy between sessions arranging for the comfort of delegates. In the hours for business, he showed an unbounded love for home missions. He apparently enjoys the confidence of the Altoona church and we pray the Conference may have been a blessing to pastor and church.

I. D. Bowman is the embodiment of love—spirituality, missions and is at home on any topic. He represents a well-balanced, whole souled true-hearted worker. One of the most thoroughly successful evangelist the church has, a consecrated worker and one whom the Lord honors nobly. He is giving his entire time to the evangelistic field. He has had the pleasure of seeing and receiving as many or more converts into the Brethren church as any minister in the brotherhood. The Brethren cause is safe in his care.

P. M. Swinehart is a very quiet worker at Conference. Does a great deal of thinking and less talking than some, yet when he talks, you are made to believe he is a whole hearted worker. He is an excellent pastor, a promising preacher and enjoys the confidence of his large charge.

J. R. Keller is a new man in the Pennsylvania field, but has already made a very creditable showing in his large field of labor. He is a very pleasing conversationalist, very agreeable in the home, hence an excellent pastor, an able doctrinal preacher, a good evangelist and one who is not afraid to preach the plain word. In Conference he is a ready talker, a forcible reasoner and an all around preacher. Happy is the church that has him as their Shepherd.
